Dr Abhay R Vasavada, founding director of the Iladevi Cataract & IOL Research Centre, has been featured among the world's top 2% clinician-scientists in ophthalmology and optometry. Dr Vasavada has been featured in the prestigious global list for the fourth consecutive year.

"It is deeply gratifying to see Indian ophthalmology represented prominently on the global research stage," he said.

Dr Vasavada is the only scientist from Gujarat to be recognised in this ranking, compiled by Stanford University and published by Elsevier as part of the Updated Science-Wide Author Databases of Standardized Citation Indicators (August 2024 data update).

According to the analysis, he holds a global rank of 1,349 in ophthalmology and optometry, placing him in the top 1.65% among 81,681 scientists in this field. Across all scientific disciplines, he is ranked 184,202 out of 230,334 scientists worldwide, corresponding to top 80 percentile globally.
